

HE WILL NOT ANSWER.

Ex-Senator P. Murphy, who was beaten in his second run for a State Senatorship, proposes to contest the election on the ground that Senator Stanford and William Stow spent large sums of money in the district, corrupting voters.

He has traced the coin spent in the district to its original source, and finds that it was spent by Bill Stow, and was furnished by the pure and philanthropic Leland Stanford, the man who has a halo of righteousness about his head as a regular article of Summer wear.

He says he will summons Stanford and Stow as witnesses and ask them some leading questions. Mr. Murphy might now, as well as any time, be reminded of the fact that Leland Stanford is not obliged to answer questions like a common, vulgar witness with no money.

When he gets into a hole where a truthful admission would cause the halo of saintliness to melt away from his head, he sends for the Honorable Judge Field, who decides that he need not satisfy the impertinent curiosity of his questioners, and all is well.

Mr. Murphy will get no admissions out of Mr. Stanford.

THE IVETT MURDER.

Detectives are swarming about Merced, California, to find out who murdered John Ivett. The circumstances point to a man named Olsen, who is his brother-in-law.

The whole affair looks like a conspiracy on the part of the Olsen family to get Ivett's money. He was worth half a million.

Ivett, at seventy years of age, married a young girl of eighteen. She was apparently not a very willing bride, but her brothers urged her on. Ivett was in feeble health, and his death would leave a large amount of property to his wife, who was also in poor health. In order for the brothers to get hold of the property the husband must die first, and then the wife. The old man threatened to outlive the wife, and it looks as if the brother hurried matters up.

He was seen at the house of Ivett the night of the murder, and the next morning there were blood stains on his saddle.

THE MANHATTAN

Life Insurance Co.,

OF NEW YORK.

ASSETS - $12,000,000.

BETTER THAN A

GOVERNMENT BOND.

The MANHATTAN for a limited period will offer the residents of Nevada a Bond Combining Insurance and investment that is in reach of all and which every healthy able-bodied man in the State should possess—for the protection of himself and family.

In explanation read what follows: Suppose a special agent of the U. S. Treasury Department should call on you today and say:

The Government would like to sell you bonds for any amount between $1,000 and $30,000 and if it is not convenient for you to make the investment at once, we will allow you to pay for the bonds in Ten Equal Annual Installments.

And, suppose, in addition to this, the Government, wishing to make this the most desirable investment in the world, should stipulate in the bond, not only to pay them at the end of the term, but in case of your previous death, to pay them to your family and AT THE SAME TIME RELEASE YOUR FAMILY FROM PAYING ANY FURTHER MONEY.

Would you not at once close with such an offer? And yet this is practically what the Manhattan Life Insurance Company, of New York has done and is doing.
